Former Mayor of Narvik Tells How Nazis 'Took Over'

Theodor Broch, Who Escaped via Trap Door Speaks Here

When the Germans captured the Norwegian port of Narvik, his little daughter thought it was Christmas, because of the "fireworks." Theodor Broch, mayor of Narvik, told his audience at the public lecture sponsored by the Antioch Business and Professional Women's club Monday evening in Antioch High School auditorium.

Although Broch was hampered slightly by the difficulties he has with the English language—he has been in the United States only four months, and retains a decided "Norske" accent—the capacity audience which heard him was nevertheless able to gain a vivid picture of what befell the little Norwegian seaport after the Nazis arrived.

A trap door was given credit by Broch for saving him from the second of two death sentences passed against him by the Nazis. He was captured once and threatened with death for endeavoring to hinder the Nazis from taking over the town. Afterward he was released, and was then again made a prisoner.

Guard Weeps

When he was captured the first time, he related, he was left with only one guard, a German youth of 18 who wept bitterly at the thought that he might have to kill Broch in case the latter were to be put to death. The sentence was, however, later commuted, and he was released.

The second time he was arrested, he was watched by several guards. This time, noticing that there was a trap door in the room, he managed to drop a note from a window with a message for a friend, asking him to bring an automobile near the house. Taking advantage of a moment when his guards were drawn to the window by the passing of Nazi troops in the street, he leaped through the trap door and dashed to the automobile and freedom.

His wife and daughter were for a time also held prisoner by the Nazis, but were later released.

The Norwegians did not give up Narvik so tamely as it might have appeared, Broch said. Two large Norwegian ships were sunk, and many men were lost, he pointed out. The British were at a disadvantage in battling for possession of the town, he said, because they did not have a sufficiently strong force.

When the Germans took over the town, they appropriated the best houses, the best food and all the liquor for themselves. The Norwegians moved out, until at one time there were only about 40—none of them men—living in the town, where there had been 10,000.

One of the little tragedies of the occupation, as related by Broch, occurred when eight of the women remaining in the town set out in a canoe to go some place, possibly to go to one of the British warships. They were seen by the British sailors, mistaken, probably, for German soldiers in disguise and shot. At that time, according to Broch, many of the Nazis had been going around in Norwegian uniforms, in women's clothes, and in other disguises.

Broch, a lawyer, became mayor of Narvik at the age of 29.

Besides his talk here, he also appeared at a Norwegian benefit program held in the American Legion home in Waukegan on Sunday.

A friend of ours from over Trevor way says the trouble with all the plans for international peace is, that they take it for granted all the nations want to do the right thing. The trouble is, he says, they don't. Some of them want things some other nation has—and they aren't a bit fussy about how they go about getting them.

We pass this on to you—

Chief Deputy Sheriff Walter Atkinson is seeking the owner of a sheep-skin coat which has been in the sheriff's office since Saturday morning.

The coat was turned over to Atkinson by Deputies Frank Valenta and Ray Simmers. They said that some kindly motorist had permitted them to take the coat to cover one of the persons injured early Saturday in a collision at routes 45 and 22 in Half Day.

Three Lake county persons were killed and four persons, including three Fort Sheridan soldiers, were injured in the collision between a sedan and an army truck.

After the injured and the dead were removed the deputies were unable to find the owner of the coat.

Annual Boxing Tournament Is Announced

75 Will Take Part in Event at Antioch High School Mar. 17, 19, 21

Between 60 and 75 boy students of the Antioch township high school are expected to take part in the annual boxing tournament which has been tentatively set for March 17, 19 and 21 by Coach R. H. Childers.

The annual boxing tournament conducted along lines which tend to develop boxing skill rather than brawn or the ability to take punishment on the part of youth of the school seems to grow in popularity with the passing of each year.

Eighty boys took part in the tournament last year but the number will be somewhat smaller this year because of conflicting events.

Every boy in the school is given an opportunity to compete in the events. All of the boys in the physical education classes which are made up of every able bodied youth in the school enter a period of training for the period of boxing. Under intramural schedules they are assigned to box three rounds of one minute each. All who desire and who are considered as fit are permitted to enter the tournament.

The boys box with 14-ounce gloves which are padded from three to four times as much as those used by professional boxers. They are permitted to compete only under the strictest supervision as to condition when they enter the ring and while a bout is in progress. Local physicians usually constitute the board of judges and a bout is stopped and a decision given if one or the other of the contestants suffers even a slight injury.

A boxing team made up of more accomplished boxers who are able to stand up under a bit keener competition is chosen from among the contestants at the close of the tournament. This team, if the occasion demands, will represent the school in contests with other schools. The 1940 team took part in but one match, however, when it competed with and defeated the Grant boxing team.

Three winners of top honors in the 1940 tournament will defend their championships in the coming tournament. They are George Sterbenz, who won in the 175 to 180 pound class and who is regarded as one of the most able amateur boxers of his size and age in the county; James Roepenack, capable 150 pounder and Bert Jordan, a fast moving youth who is expected to again give a good account of himself in the 120 to 125 pound division.

There is a possibility that some of the winners in the various divisions will be invited to compete with boxers from Grant and Libertyville high schools as a feature of the big wrestling and boxing show to be staged in Antioch in April under the sponsorship of the Antioch fire department.

Hiram Patrick, 84, Dies in Burlington

Former Trevor Resident Is Buried Today at Liberty Corners

Funeral services were held this afternoon in Burlington for Hiram Patrick, 84, formerly of Trevor. Burial was in the family plot in Liberty Corners cemetery.

Mr. Patrick died Tuesday noon at the home of his daughter, Mrs. William Kruckman, in Burlington, where he had lived for many years.

He was born July 2, 1856, at Sangerfield, N. Y., and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Patrick. At the age of eight, he came to Kenosha county with his parents.

He was for a time a cheesemaker at Oconomowoc, Wis., later devoting his attention to farming, at Trevor. He retired about 20 years ago.

On Sept. 9, 1880, he was united in marriage with Miss Adelaide Winchell of Wilmot, who preceded him in death eight years ago.

Besides his daughter, he is survived by a sister, Miss Sarah Patrick of Trevor; by four grandchildren, two great-grandchildren and two nephews.

Two sisters and two brothers predeceased him in death. Miss Elizabeth Patrick, Mrs. Alice Turpening, and John and George Patrick.

The Rev. Ernst Kistler of Elkhorn, formerly of Salem, officiated at the funeral services, held in the Kruckman home.

Committees Study Model Building Project

Committees from three Antioch organizations will meet this week to investigate the building of a model firehouse.

The American Legion committee is composed of Dr. A. P. Bratrade, J. Harry Message, post commander and John Horan. The Antioch Lions Club committee consists of H. A. Smith, cashier at the First National Bank of Antioch; Edmund Vos, president of the Antioch Lumber and Coal Co.; and George Bacon.

A committee was appointed recently by the Antioch Firemen's association consisting of Clete Vos, president of the fire department; James McMillen, and Walter Scott of the Scott Dairy company.

The plan was advanced by Daniel Boyer, sales representative of the Johns-Manville Corp., at meetings of the three organizations held recently.

Boyer lives in a new model home in Antioch, built under the Johns-Manville triple-insulation plan. The proposed new home, it is hoped, will stimulate building of additional similar homes in the territory and thereby aid in relieving the housing shortage.

Forecast Light Vote in Town Election Tuesday, April 1

With only one office in contest, that of justice of the peace, a light vote is expected to be cast at the annual town election to be held on Tuesday, April 1. This is the earliest possible date a town election may be held, since the law provides that the balloting be held on the first Tuesday in April. This year Tuesday falls on the first.

The ballot will carry the name of E.

E. Brook for police magistrate, who is up for re-election after having served one four-year term.

Three trustees are to be elected and the ballot will carry the names of W.

I. Scott, James Stearns and Laurel

Powles, all seasoned members of the local administrative board, who are candidates for re-election.

The three hold-over board members elected in 1939 for four-year terms are Art Rosenfeld, Clete Vos and Elmer Renter.

Tuesday Last Filing Date

With the last day for filing petitions for village office only four days away (March 11) it seems unlikely that any other slate of candidates will appear.

March 17 is the last day for candidates to withdraw.

Senator Brooks Speaks His Mind

New York Daily News

Senator C. Wayland Brooks (Rep., Ill.) delivered his maiden speech in the Senate last Friday. He spoke in opposition to the Dictatorship Bill. It was a masterly speech. He was congratulated not only by those on his side of the issue, but also by the opposition. Senator Brooks is still a young man, and it may be thought that he is almost still an amateur as a statesman. However, on this particular subject he has somewhat special and intimate knowledge.

Senator Brooks served with the Marines in the World War. He was wounded seven times. He received the D. S. C. (for bravery) both from the Army and the Navy. France gave him the Croix de Guerre. He lost a brother in the War. His father and two other brothers served overseas. He was discharged from service when only 21, and is now only 44 years old.

Some quotations from Senator Brooks' speech may show why it was so well-received:

"You say, 'We'll fight!' I insist we might better say, here on this floor, 'Our boys will fight!'

"Some people don't seem to understand: This is a continuous fight over there. It may last forever, and you can't stop it. Neither can I. But if we work together, we can save civilization here."

"There is no glamour for the men who fight the wars. The glamour is for lady radio speakers and their men counterparts."

"For the men who do the fighting and have nothing to say about the declaration of war, there is only hardship, suffering and death."

Some deadly parallels are cited by Senator Brooks: "November, 1916—A powerful Democratic President, re-elected on the slogan, 'He kept us out of war!'"

"November, 1940—A powerful President, re-elected on his pledge that the country would not be involved in foreign war."

"January, 1917—The re-elected President sending his personal friend, his personal representative—Col. House—to talk secretly with the rulers of the British Empire."

"January, 1941—The re-elected President sending to Europe his own personal representative—Harry Hopkins—to talk with the rulers of the British Empire."

"January, 1917—The powerful President who said, 'I am not proposing or contemplating war or any steps that may lead to it.'

"February, 1941—The powerful President has presented his own bill that gives complete authority to him alone to choose our enemies or name our friends. . . .

"The answer, in April, 1917, was war! The answer, in April, 1941, is a question mark. How short our memories are!"

Sentiment in Illinois is not so warlike as in the South, for example, where Senator Robert R. Reynolds (Dem., N. C.) has spoken out against H. R. 1776. However, there is a body of opinion in Senator Brooks' state, as elsewhere, that feels we should dive back into the European mess, from which a war emerges every 20 years or so. Probably, as time goes on and hysteria fanned, this body of opinion will grow.

When the boys begin coming back in their pine boxes, draped with the Stars and Stripes, sentiment will change. When the mothers take their last look, before the grave enfolds those pine boxes, draped with the Stars and Stripes, sentiment will change.

There will be a revulsion. There may even be a revolution.

The bill making this Government the endorser of $100,000,000 of the bonds of the Nicaragua canal company has been the cause of a somewhat spirited debate in the senate. The lobby that has manipulated this bill has . . . surrounded it with mystery and Senators upon the floor hint at secret reasons for its passing in a manner that would be almost amusing if it did not involve the possible loss of a very large sum of money. Senator Morgan said that the reason for the committee's pressing the bill at this stage of the session was its great importance and further that the committee had no alternative. The questions naturally arise, why has it suddenly become so important? and why did the committee have no alternative? There is one consideration, when the bill gets to the House, which has no executive sessions to mystify the country, there are members who will insist on having these questions answered before voting to put more money into a position similar to that invested in the Pacific railroads.

CHRIST REJECTED

LESSON TEXT—Luke 20:9-20.
GOLDEN TEXT—Blessed are ye, when men shall revile you, and persecute you, and shall say all manner of evil against you falsely, for my sake—Matthew 5:11.

Rejection of Christ by Israel as a nation is pictured in our lesson. We know how the judgment of God has come upon that nation because of its failure to receive Him and believe on Him. God had to take the vineyard from them and give it to others (v. 10).

Men today reject Christ, and we find that the sin which causes them to do so and the judgment which follows are essentially the same as in the case of Israel. There is a reason for Christ rejection, and there is a certain time of answering to God for that sin.

I. Why Men Reject Christ (vv. 9-15).

Self-will, the very heart of all sin, underlies every refusal to let Christ have His rightful control over our lives. There are two forces which may dominate and direct my life—God's will or self-will. Just as love of God is the essence of all virtue (Matt. 22:37-38), so love of self is the essence of all sin.

The leaders of Israel, both political and religious, had one great fear which dominated all of their thinking concerning Jesus; namely, that they would lose all their authority if He were recognized by the people for what the leaders must have known Him to be—the Son of God, and their rightful King. God had entrusted to them as underservants the care of His vineyard, and in their wicked greed they had determined to have it all for themselves, even though it meant destroying the Son and rightful Heir.

We need only a moment's reflection to realize that this is exactly what occurs every time someone now rejects Christ. It is because in self-will that person decides that the one who has a right to his life is not to have it. There are many sins, but this is the root sin of them all.

II. What Happens When Men Reject Christ (vv. 16-18).

Judgment. It came to Israel, as all history even to this dark day so strikingly testifies. Just so, it will come to every one who rejects Christ.

It is not a slight matter of comparative unimportance whether a man accepts or rejects Christ. He likes to make it appear so, saying that it is just something about the local church that he does not like, or the preacher does not exactly suit him; or perchance he hides behind the time-worn excuse that there are hypocrites in the church, when in doing so he proves that he is himself the worst of hypocrites.

All of these excuses do not hide the fact that in self-will he is rejecting God's will for his life in Christ. At the end of that road he will have to meet the judgment of God upon sin. God reads the heart, knows the falsity of every excuse and the real rebellion against Christ, which may be hidden from fellow men by smooth words and polite manners.

Tear off that mask, unbelieving friend who may read these words. Face the truth that you are refusing Christ's authority because you are self-willed, and look squarely at the fact that "it is appointed unto men once to die, and after this comes the judgment" (Heb. 9:27. R. V.)

III. How Men Reject Christ (vv. 19, 20).

Decit and treachery of the vilest kind marked the rejection of Christ by Israel's leaders. They feared the people, and lacking the authority to condemn Him themselves they had to obtain some evidence under which the Roman law would have to sentence Him. It is significant that they could not find one bit of real evidence against Him and had to proceed by trickery and treachery. Christ rejection in our day is just as deceitful and treacherous, although it does not often appear so outwardly. As a matter of fact, the leaders of Israel were outwardly polite and careful. They sent spies who could "feign themselves to be just men." They "feared the people" and did not dare to speak openly against Him.

Men cover up their motives today. Some would wish to excuse themselves on the ground of lack of knowledge, but in our land at least that is largely their own choice. Others might say they have only been careless, but on what ground can one justify neglect of a life and death matter? Some blame the sins of professing Christians, but this is an individual matter—you must answer for your own soul.

No matter which way man may turn in seeking for an excuse for his rejection of Christ, if he is honest he will have to admit that he has dealt deceitfully with God. When he does that, he is ready in repentance and faith to take Christ as his Saviour and Lord.

Lois Hunter and William Gerber Wed at Thompson Home

Nuptials Also Mark Celebration of Relatives' Anniversary

The home of her uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Will Thompson of Hickory Corners, was the scene of the wedding of Miss Lois Enid Hunter, and William Gerber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Simon Gerber of Cottage Grove, Wis., Saturday afternoon, at 2:30 o'clock. The Thompsons had observed their own twenty-fifth wedding anniversary on Friday, and the wedding festivities were, in a sense, a double celebration.

The bridal couple exchanged their vows standing beneath a canopy of white streamers, in the center of which hung a huge wedding bell. Floral decorations featured a huge basket bouquet of pink and white snap dragon, lavender stocks and ferns.

The Rev. Fred Miller of the South Oak Park church read the service, and the wedding march from Wagner's "Lohengrin" was played by Mrs. Arthur Shearer of Oak Park, a cousin of the bride.

With her gown of cactus green, the bride wore brown accessories and a corsage bouquet of lavender and white sweet peas.

Mrs. Marvin Van Patten, (the former Dorothy Hunter) who attended her sister as matron of honor, was gowned in dusty rose color, also with brown accessories, and her corsage was of pink and white sweet peas. Marvin Van Patten acted as best man.

A buffet luncheon was served afterward to 30 relatives and close friends of the family, and telephoned greetings from the bridegroom's parents, who were unable to attend, were read.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Fred Miller, Mrs. Clifford Bradley and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Shearer, all of Oak Park.

The Gerbers left in the evening on a brief honeymoon trip to Northern Wisconsin.

Since her graduation from Antioch Township High school, the former Miss Hunter had been employed in Oak Park.

Mr. Gerber, who in the past had operated the Pantry, and later, the Midget Eat Shop, in Antioch, was called into active service with the 108th Quartermaster regiment of the 33rd Division, National Guards.

He and Marvin Van Patten, who is also known to his friends as "Elaine," were inducted into the army service at ceremonies held this week at the Armory in Chicago. They expect to leave early next week for Camp Forest, Tenn. The Van Patters have purchased a house trailer, and when the men go to camp their wives plan to live in a trailer camp nearby.

"Keep Up With the Times," Kline Urges Woman's Club

There is need for the awakening of womanhood to changing conditions in government and in life in general. R. E. Pattison Kline told the 35 members of the Antioch Woman's club present at a meeting in the home of Mrs. Lester Osmond, Monday afternoon.

Women are attaining a more important place in the social, economic and political life of the nation each year, said Kline, and asserted that women should keep themselves well informed on the trend of national affairs. "Every woman should acquire knowledge of the state of the nation in its fullest sense and determine the direction in which we are drifting," he continued. "Women constitute an integral part in the development and progress of the nation and they should not be content to merely serve as a means to an end but as guides of their country to its destiny, as well."

Kline, who heads a Chicago speech school for business executives, took as his general subject "The Challenge to the American Mind."

On the committee for the afternoon were Misses M. M. Stillson, A. P. Bratrade, J. E. Charles and Ernest Simons.

Robert Wilton made a business trip to Chicago Wednesday.

Danger in Hurry-Up Method of Schooling Told by Expert

By GARRY CLEVELAND MYERS, PH.D.

Having visited classrooms in over a hundred public school systems throughout the United States during the last few years, and talked to many elementary principals and superintendents, I am persuaded that in the better public schools the practice of stop-watch teaching has noticeably decreased, and has almost wholly disappeared in a few places. This discovery affords me deep satisfaction for, as you know, I have been condemning this curse to childhood for years.

But speed tests, which have spread upward to the high school, must prevail very widely still, judging from the letters I receive from anxious parents within the past several months. In 66 cities of 14 states, they have asked me personally to say and write more about the ill-effect of speed drills and hurrying of children while they try to learn at school.

And it is all so silly to hurry children. There is no scientific evidence that hurrying a child will help him learn faster. The weight of published evidence, especially in arithmetic, is to the contrary. Common sense, wholesome personality and good mental health are all against speeding at school.

When we hurry a child in order to make him quick we confuse the process with the product. What the child knows perfectly he can say, write or do quickly. The problem is to guide him to learn facts and skills with accuracy in an atmosphere of comfort, in an atmosphere devoid of fear, anxiety, strain, or confusion.

A standard test with time limits, given once or twice a year, might be justified as a general checking measure, though in the future such tests will be power-tests instead of timed tests, no doubt. Yet it is the constant speed drills and hurry exercises of many a classroom which are doing the damage and should be outlawed.

Please don't condemn the teacher. She is only doing what she supposes she ought to do. She was trained in a normal school or teachers' college to become a stop-watch holder.

We parents at home can help the child at school to be ready for the "races" in arithmetic and to win occasionally, perhaps, if we won't "run him" at home but will exercise him in an atmosphere of calm and carefulness. We should endeavor to induce the child at home to practice slowly and accurately, especially on the basic number facts in arithmetic attacking just a few each night.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

"Christ Jesus" was the subject of the Lesson-Sermon in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, on Sunday, March 2.

The Golden Text was, "Unto us a child is born, unto us a son is given, of the increase of his government and peace there shall be no end, upon the throne of David, and upon his kingdom, to order it, and to establish it with judgment and with justice from henceforth even for ever" (Isaiah 9:6, 7).

Among the citations which comprised the Lesson-Sermon was the following from the Bible: "Behold, a virgin shall be with child, and shall bring forth a son, and they shall call his name Emmanuel, which being interpreted is, God with us" (Matthew 1:23).

The Lesson-Sermon also included the following passages from the Christian Science textbook: "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "Jesus was the son of a virgin. He was appointed to speak God's word and to appear to mortals in such a form of humanity as they could understand as well as perceive." Mary's conception of him was spiritual, for only purity could reflect Truth and Love, which were plainly incarnate in the good and pure Christ Jesus (p. 332).

Preparatory Membership Breakfasts

During the Lenten Season each Sunday morning at 8:30 a.m. at the Parsonage, a Preparatory Membership class is being held for the youngsters from the age 11 up on who desire to join the church on Easter Sunday morning. The class is held in the form of a breakfast combining the social aspect of the church with the studies on what it means to become a member of the church.

Every boy or girl in the community who would like to know the meaning of church membership is cordially invited and urged to attend these breakfasts. There is no obligation involved and no charge is made for the breakfast. Donations of food by various members of the church and community help to provide this unique activity. It is hoped that a large group of these young people will come into full membership of the church on Easter morning and thus find their place in religious side of life.

Lenten Series of Evening Services

Again, during the Lenten season, a special evening service is being held every Sunday night at 7:30 p.m. The first of the series was held last Sunday night, March 2, with the Rev. MacArthur giving the message with the use of his colored chalk drawing. Each of the following Sunday night services will find a guest speaker in the pulpit, and special music from various surrounding cities. Rev. MacArthur will also bring another of his chalk drawings depicting the steps in the life of Christ up to the Easter time.

If you have not been in the habit of attending these Sunday evening services, you have been missing a real treat and thrill. It will be time well spent for you to attend these interesting and inspiring services during the Lenten season, and your heart will be strangely warmed. Come yourself, and bring another with you, to the "Church on the Busy Highway"!

Cubbing Becomes an Integral Part of the Town

Some weeks ago the Boy Scout troop was organized and has been functioning in beautiful fashion ever since, with an enormous interest being shown by both town and boys. The cry immediately rose from the younger boys for a Cubbing program, and now under the leadership of the Rev. MacArthur, the Cubbing program for boys between the ages of 9 and 12 is being organized and the first meeting will be held this Saturday afternoon at the Methodist church. Any and all boys between these ages that are interested are urged to be present at that time. The hour is 2:30 p.m.

Second "Wayside Chapel" off the Press!

Just one month ago, the first of the monthly publications of the "Church on the Busy Highway" known as the "Wayside Chapel" was distributed. A limited edition of 100 copies was distributed with great enthusiasm and was very well received. So well, in fact, that the second month's edition was increased in number to 150. This little eight page mimeographed booklet is designed to give to the town in general the news of the many activities of the local church and also provide food for thought. Many interesting and inspiring poems are included as are a number of very worthy thoughts, along with editorials by the Rev. MacArthur. This little booklet is free to all for the asking and if you do not already have your copy inquire of your pastor and he will see that you get one.

If at any time you have any poems, thoughts, or short articles that you would like to contribute to this little paper, please get them into Rev. MacArthur's hands as soon as possible. If anybody wishes at any time to contribute to the booklet in a financial way, these gifts will be gladly received. The more you respond in any way, the better the paper is going to be. It is YOUR publication—help make it as interesting as humanly possible. Thank you!

Uses Cheaper Coal
An automatic household-furnace stoker using the cheaper grades of hard coal, which, with thermostatic control, can be ignored for months at a time, has been invented by E. T. Selig and tested by the Mellon Institute. Given an adequate coal bin and an ash-storage pit four feet deep, it was necessary to replenish the coal only once in four months, have the ashes removed three times a year. A 38-year-old boiler furnace was used for the test.

PINEAPPLE COTTAGE CHEESE CAKE

Refrigerator cheese cakes have long been a favorite dessert, and this one is made especially flavorful with crushed pineapple and color is added by including a few maraschino cherries.

Line a spring form pan with the following crumb mixture; blend all ingredients, then pack three-fourths of the mixture in the bottom and around sides of the mold. Reserve the remaining crumbs to sprinkle over the filling.

2 cups finely rolled corn flakes

1/4 pound soft butter

4 tablespoons sugar

1 tablespoon cinnamon

FILLING

2 tablespoon granulated gelatin

2 tablespoons cold water

3 eggs, separated

1/2 cup granulated sugar

1/4 teaspoon salt

1 cup milk

1 pound cottage cheese

1/2 lemon juice and grated rind

1 teaspoon vanilla

1/2 cup crushed pineapple

1/4 cup maraschino cherries

1/2 cup heavy cream, whipped.

Soak the gelatin in the cold water. Beat egg yolks with the sugar and salt. Add the milk and cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly, until the mixture is smooth and thickened. Dissolve the gelatin in the hot custard mixture. Add the cheese which has been forced through a ricer or coarse strainer, then the lemon, vanilla, pineapple and sliced cherries. Lastly fold in the stiffly-beaten egg whites and the whipped cream. Pour into the prepared crust and chill for several hours in the refrigerator. Garnish with whipped cream and pieces of pineapple and whole maraschino cherries. This amount is sufficient to fill a ten-inch spring form pan and will serve ten to twelve.

PEANUT BUTTER CUP CAKES

3/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 cup brown sugar firmly packed
1/2 cup peanut butter
2 eggs well beaten
1/2 cup brown sugar firmly packed
2 cups sifted flour (cake flour preferred)
2 1/2 teaspoons baking powder
1/4 cup milk.

Combine spry, salt and vanilla. Add 1 cup brown sugar gradually, creaming until light and fluffy. Add peanut butter and mix thoroughly. Beat eggs until light, add 1/2 cup brown sugar, add to creamed mixture and blend well. Sift flour and baking powder together three times . . . add small amounts of flour to creamed mixture, alternately with milk, beating after each addition until smooth. Pour batter into cup cake pans greased with Spry. Bake in moderate oven 350° F. 2 to 30 minutes. Makes 18.

One of Its Kind

Los Angeles, Calif., lays claim to what is probably the only marriage clinic in this country, probably in the world. It is the Institute of Family Relations with Dr. Paul Popenoe, one of the first ranking social eugenicists in the nation, as general director. The institution is supported in part by generous donors who are interested in the promotion of social service. The institute is particularly proud of its premarital service, which is offered to those about to wed who want help in making their marriage a success. Every couple who have taken this service before marriage are still married, so far as is known.

Statue on Capitol

Not so well known, perhaps, as the Statue of Liberty, the statue which crowns the dome of the nation's capitol at Washington takes on great significance at this time. The statue is that of Freedom, armed with helmet, shield and sheathed sword. The bronze statue is 19 1/2 feet high, weighs 15,000 pounds. It was set in place, 307 1/2 feet above the esplanade, December 2, 1863. "Freedom" is the work of Thomas Crawford, an American artist. The original model is in the Smithsonian institution.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

To clean aluminum pots that have become dark, fill with water, add a sliced lemon and boil.

—o—

Biscuits are usually baked at a high temperature, about 450° F. If baked in too low an oven they become dry. Too high an oven makes them hard.

—o—

Because ham is so distinctly flavorful, it's easy to make left-over dishes with it as a base. Serve cold in salads or sandwiches, or hot in casserole combinations in cream sauce, or as a ham loaf.

—o—

To make good sandwich spread—grind in your food grinder a mixture of cold meats, cheese, hard boiled egg, pickles, onion and olives. Mix with salad dressing. This makes a grand spread and keeps well in your refrigerator.

—o—

To clean a frying pan after frying fish, heat with a little salt, then wash good.

—o—

To make tender flaky pastry is every pie maker's aim. To make it, cut the shortening into the flour in two portions; the first part finely cut and the second part in pieces about the size of a pea; put the two portions together and add enough water slowly (drop by drop) to make stick together. You will have lovely pie crust.

—o—

Always cook vegetables as short a time as possible. Over cooking and slow cooking spoil their flavor.

—o—

A dipper of ice cream in your favorite beverage, is an excellent way to make sodas at home.

—o—

To clean copper or brass rub with cut piece of lemon and salt. Wash well and polish with dry cloth.

—o—

Apricot sandwich filling will brighten up the lunch box—and the children, too. Mix the cooked apricot pulp with cream cheese and spread between buttered slices of white or whole wheat bread.

WEEKLY NEWS ANALYSIS

By Edward C. Wayne

Nazi Advance Guard Enters Bulgaria; Japan's Arbitration Offer Rejected By Britain; Far Eastern Crisis Grows; Defense Board Speeds Up Arms Work

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

(Released by Western Newspaper Union.)

BALKY BALKANS: And an American

As Adolf Hitler's advance guard slipped into Bulgaria from Rumania there was none to stay them. Clad in civilian overcoats which they did not remove but from which protruded sleek military boots, members of the German staff took over the principal hotel of Sofia and the main Bulgarian resort town 40 miles away.

Where before anti-Nazi signs had been scribbled on walls and Bulgarian national songs were heard, now orchestra turned to Viennese waltzes and raised their right arms, palms open. Bulgarian army generals came to the Sofia hotel with bundles of maps under their arms. All day and all night they and the boot-clad men poured over them.

There was only one show of hostility. But it was a beaut while it lasted, which was about an hour. George H. Earle, American minister to Bulgaria and former governor of Pennsylvania, was in a night club just around the corner from the embassy building. The place was filled with the mysterious boot-clad, civilian-overcoated foreigners. The governor didn't like the tune the orchestra was playing and asked them to switch to "It's a Long Way to Tipperary."

One of the mysterious strangers took offense. Earle said later he was a major of the German general staff. Words were passed and finally Earle said the major threw a bottle at him, which he warded off by covering his head with his arm.

The former governor has never been known to pass up a chance like that. In the World war he commanded a submarine chaser.

GEORGE H. EARLE

Waiters and Bulgars were enlisted.

After the war he took up aviation, cracking up several machines but always getting into another and flying off just as quickly as possible. He is an expert boxer and has not refused to make use of his fists before.

Earle said he "injured the man's features." Reporters who were present said the battle lasted for an hour with bottles, chairs and tables being used in the melee. The mysterious foreigner was aided by reinforcements which consisted of certain other boot-clad and overcoated gentlemen. Earle enlisted the waiters at the restaurant, where he was known and various and sundry Bulgars who were present. Police had a hard time with both sides for the next hour.

AIR CRASH: Number Four

Last August the commercial air lines of the country had established a no-accident record of 17 months, but with the midnight crash of an Eastern Airlines sleeper plane near Atlanta, Ga., the number of accidents in the intervening six months was raised to four.

When searchers, near dawn, reached the scene of the crash they found seven persons killed, nine others injured. Among those found dead was a member of congress, Rep. William D. Byron of Maryland, and among the severely injured was the famed World war flying ace, Eddie Rickenbacker, president of the company on whose plane he was riding. Also killed were the pilot, the co-pilot and steward of the plane's crew.

Next day a report from Balboa, Canal Zone, told of the crash of a U. S. army bomber into Panama bay. An immediate search, first reports said, failed to disclose any trace of a crew of seven.

SPAIN:

Ex-Monarch Dies

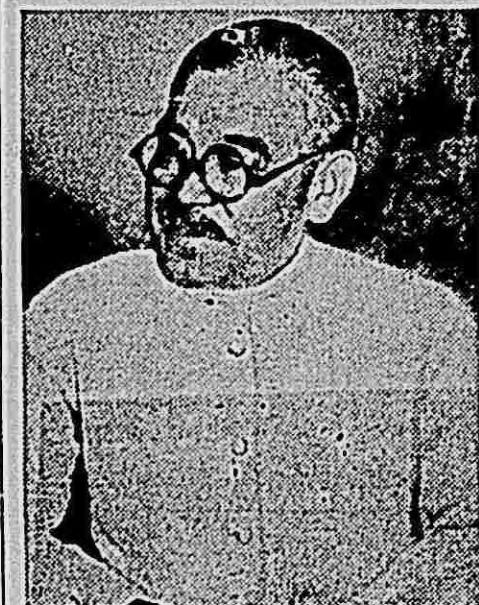

Spain's former monarch, King Alfonso XIII, died of a heart ailment after an illness of two weeks. He died in his Rome hotel room which had been his exile home for the past 10 years. He reigned as king of the Spanish people for 29 years, during which time at least eight attempts were made to assassinate him. His reign ended in April, 1931, when he left the throne, saying that . . . "I no longer have the love of my people."

PEACEMAKER: An Offer

Japan offered to be the peacemaker of the world and arbitrate all disputes. The offer came in a statement from Foreign Minister Yosuke Matsuoka. Churchill conferred with U. S. authorities and then called in the Japanese ambassador. His reply was one word: "No."

Meanwhile the Japanese "peacemakers" in Indo-China were mopping up on their job. Having investigated a conflict between Thailand (Siam) and the French rulers of Indo-China, Japan stepped in and "enforced" an armistice, taking for itself the rich port of Saigon.

While the terms of the armistice were being developed into a peace treaty, Japanese soldiers extended their influence in Indo-China until the French rulers became mere puppets. Stores were filled with Japanese products and residents who refused to buy them were beaten and jailed.

YOSUKE MATSUOKA

Just west of the Indo-Chinese sphere of influence is the Philippines and just south are the Dutch East Indies, chief source of United States tin and rubber. The Japanese turned covetous eyes on that spot. If that source of supply would be closed to United States shipping, America's entire defense effort would be threatened.

Big Stick

Washington said nothing, but carried a big stick. The U. S. fleet was known to be somewhere in the vicinity. Gen. George C. Marshall, chief of staff of the army, also had a big stick. Hundreds of army fighting planes left the West coast for our Pacific possessions—Hawaii and the Philippines.

More important, the house voted funds to fortify the islands of Guam and Samoa, the U. S. Gibralters in the Pacific. The same proposal was defeated in the house two years ago for fear of offending Japan.

MEN AT WORK: Full Speed

While congress spent precious weeks in prolonged debate on the lease-lend bill to send war materials to Great Britain, the defense commission got in some mighty speedy licks. The arming of the nation's forces has entered the third P of the plan, priorities. The other two are procurement and production.

Stettinius' Job

Priorities is the job now. It will do no good to produce 40 airplane engines and no airplane tail assemblies. The defense commission must regulate production so that every item down to the last eraser on a lead pencil arrives just at the moment it can be used.

The task is under the direction of E. R. Stettinius Jr. Aluminum and machine tool industries were first to feel the effects of his order. By authority of the navy speedup law passed last June, Stettinius directed that both industries put aside all other labor and devote their entire energies to filling defense contracts. After defense contracts are underway, commercial production will be rationed. But until such time as the government has sufficient aluminum, for instance for planes and tanks, there will be little or none for streamlined trains, kitchen utensils or even tooth paste tubes.

Meanwhile procurement and production must be stepped up to meet new demands.

How this was being done was reflected in the news of the day. Consider:

• A new 8-inch railroad gun capable of hurling a 200-pound shell 18 miles was delivered to the army's proving grounds at Aberdeen, Md. The gun weighs 225,000 pounds.

• The three of the army's four mechanized divisions, still not supplied with arms, are receiving scout cars. One was displayed in Washington and two brave congressmen consented to ride in it. The driver took them straight up the Capitol steps.

New Angle Triangle

GLENDALE, CALIF.—A triangle consisting of a man, his wife, and the U. S. army, landed Mrs. Esther M. Moore (above) in jail when (in violation of army rules) she refused to cease making frequent efforts to visit her husband, Sgt. G. G. Moore. A veteran army man, Moore is completing his flying course at an army air school in Glendale and Mrs. Moore was arrested on a charge of disturbing the peace after a series of attempts to get by the sentries on duty.

PIG BOATS: In the Atlantic

Hitler made another speech. It was more eloquent in what it did not say than in what was said. Der Fuehrer pictured an impressive spring campaign against England's life lines in the Atlantic. None got up and left the meeting, although some, hearkening back to the same speech in January, may have thought to do so with the expression, "Here's where we came in."

In reality, the speech made in the Munich beer cellar where Nazism was born, was a tacit admission that Hitler's air power, his original major weapon on which he risked war, had failed to produce decisive results. And between the lines of the speech can be read the admission that British sea power is gripping the Axis countries even tighter than it did last fall.

So Hitler, during the winter months, has been building a new type of U-boat, known as "pig boats" to naval men. In Norway, Denmark, Belgium, The Netherlands and in France all the vast ship building yards have been turning out pocket submarines during the winter months. How many the Germans have on hand is not known, but best estimates are 1,000, with hundreds more ready to be delivered before summer.

No nation has nearly this many undersea craft. The United States has but a few hundred and England even less. Germany last fall was estimated to have almost 500 standard size submarines. But submarines do not fight submarines. To sink them, fast cruisers and destroyers are necessary. Britain, even with the 50 destroyers obtained from the U. S., will have a difficult time to cope with the situation, if even a fraction of that number U-boats begins to prey on the sealanes that bring her food and munitions.

Explanation

Mussolini also made a speech. Whereas Hitler seemed scornful of wavering within the German lines, Il Duce seemed less sure. He blamed discontent on Jews and Masons and dwelt on the indissolubility that bind Italy to Germany, which is a nice way of putting it now that German censors are in charge of communications leading from Italy to the outside world.

He had a new explanation for the disasters in Africa. Marshal Graziani earlier blamed failure on lack of mechanical equipment in the Fascist forces. Mussolini said, however, that the British succeeded because they achieved numerical superiority. Since all British reinforcements to Egypt pass within 50 miles of Italian naval and air bases, Il Duce seemed here also to be making an admission of the ineffectiveness of his battle forces.

MISCELLANY:

• In the main hall of the Kremlin, in Moscow, a national conference of the Communist party was in progress. Members charged that production in several key industries was delayed due to buck-passing and overwhelming red tape. The Central Committee hinted shake-ups. The dismissals followed quickly. Among those losing their official heads was Maxim Litvinoff, former foreign commissar, and Paulina Shemyonova Zhemchuzhina, wife of Premier and Foreign Minister Molotov.

• The annual Academy of Motion Picture Arts and Sciences awards for outstanding acting in the films went to Ginger Rogers for her performance in "Kitty Foyle" and to James Stewart for his role in "The Philadelphia Story."

• There was confusion at Mrs. Roosevelt's press conference. The 40 or more women reporters were sitting in the Madison Room at the White House when past the door walked a bathrobe-clad male figure. He heard the female voices and fled. It was Harry Hopkins, presidential guest. Someone closed the door.

Valve Grinding

The remedy for a loss of power is not always valve grinding, according to the American Automobile club. It is even simpler and less expensive, having the spark timing adjusted, together with valve timing. This will work wonders for restoring the power of the average engine.

Butterflies Symbolize Immortality

Because butterflies symbolize immortality in Chinese myth, says an article in the magazine Natural History, jade carvings of butterflies were often buried with the dead in old China.

Sets New Pin Record in Antioch

THE CAUSE—Rene Kelly, holder of alley record at Antioch Recreation, put plenty of zip on the ball she has just released on its way toward the maples 63 feet away—and...

Rene Kelly Sets
Record of 277 at Recreation Alleys

Mrs. Rene Kelly of Loon Lake gave the men bowlers something to think about when she set a record of 277 in a game she bowled at the Antioch Recreation parlor alleys Friday evening.

The previous record was 276, made by Roman Vos of the Antioch Lumber and Coal Company team in the Antioch Business league, on Feb. 6.

To make her score, just 23 points short of the perfect "300" which has been attained by few bowlers, Mrs. Kelly rolled up the following cumulative points:

1—30; 2—57; 3—77; 4—97; 5—127
6—157; 7—187; 8—217; 9—247; 10—
277.

Mrs. Kelly is a member of the Waukegan Women's Bowling association.

THE EFFECT—Ten neatly placed pins go sprawling into the pit. Yes sir, it was a strike.
